

GO! ENGLISH

M A G A Z I N E

En anglais pour les Français

N°41 mars-avril 2010

niveau
INTERMÉDIAIRE

Springtime traditions
in Britain

English slang

Afternoon tea

Where America shops

Inside British politics

America's modern cowboys

Also inside: English film director Ken Loach - In the News
UK universities adopt US technique - American BBQ - Business Matters

Commandez votre CD audio p. 2

DOM : 7,50 EUR - BEL : 8,20 EUR - CH : 13,80 FS
AUT : 9,00 EUR - GR : 8,20 EUR - MAR : 80,00 MAD

www.goenglish.fr

M 08975 - 41 - F: 6,00 € - RD

Guerrilla Gardening in public spaces

All too often public spaces in the UK become neglected and covered with litter and weeds. Fed up, a growing group of like-minded people have started a phenomenon called Guerrilla Gardening. Coordinating themselves through a Web site, these unsung heroes adopt abandoned patches of land in their local communities to cultivate new gardens for everyone to enjoy. Often the gardeners remain anonymous yet their efforts are bringing great joy to communities and helping to stimulate a sense of shared responsibility for the places we live in.

litter	des débris
weed	une mauvaise herbe
to be fed up	en avoir marre

like-minded	ayant le même état d'esprit
unsung hero	un héros méconnu
patch	un coin

